PRAY FOR OUR RABBI

The spiritual responsibilities of rabbi Daniel are far and wide, reaching into the nations of the world. I have known our rabbi for more than two decades and can tell you that he is a caring man of G-d who is always thinking the best for others. He carries the nations of the world upon his shoulders even as he prepares to teach us the ways of Adonai’s Torah. Pray that good health may always be his and a fresh anointing of Adonai’s revelation be his lot every day.

SAY TO SOMEONE WHO ARE SICK. The shock of illness and a sincere desire to say the right thing can be obstacles when looking for what to say. Consider bookmarking these Psalms to share with your friend or family member. Tell the person close to you that you have been thinking about them and that you want to share some important words that you hope will bring them comfort. This Psalm directly asks for healing. At the same time, it recognizes the real fear and scary emotions when going through a health crisis. Psalm 6:2 "O Lord, heal me, for my bones are shaking with fear."

Torah - It is a Tree of Life for those who grasp it, It's ways are ways of pleasantness and all its paths are shalom.

righteousness, that the Torah be made great and glorious.

"Can't" Versus "Won't" One of the most prevalent rationalizations is the words: "I can't." How many times have you heard (or said) "I'd love to help, but I can't..." If you switch "can't" for what is more truthful "won't," you also switch the responsibility for a wrong decision. "But at if you switch to won't you are being more truthful. I can't" implies that I am powerless to do what's right.

"I won't" means that I know have the ability, or I know I can find the way, but am choosing not to do it. In other words, "I don't feel like it..." Watch out for the excuses (the "buts") that stifle your impulse to do what's right. Whenever you hear a "but" – a justification for not doing the right thing – instantly challenge it head-on. Demolish those "buts" which are strongholds and start taking control of your life again.
